One Consideration...

- To engage students in the transfer of learning in more and more active ways.
 - To risk a little of our own comfort zones as we seek to draw them into an atmosphere of learning.
 - To give a little on the idea of "X amount" of content at the cost of interactivity.
 - Not a new idea, but a "renew" idea!
 - Fresh vs. Day Old

Remember, the Teaching event is like a tire with a slow leak...

You have to pump it up at the beginning and throughout the journey to keep from ending with a flat tire.

CARDS

There are two things people want more than sex and money---

☞ Recognition

☞ Praise

Some people call it "positive reinforcement."

Others, a motivational strategy." Still others label it "common courtesy" – a sign of appreciation.

But most folks refer to it as "RECOGNITION."

Leadership

- Taking people to a place they would not normally go on their own.

Leadership

- Influencing and energizing people to work together in a common effort to bring about the objectives of the organization.

Leaders are the Bridge
